
Seoul Silver Grass & Pink Muhly Autumn's Version of Cherry Blossoms The Complete Grass Season Guide

Subtitle

If spring has cherry blossoms
autumn has grass

What Grass Season Is — the Other Color of Autumn Foreigners Miss

Korean autumn usually means red foliage (#229) — but Seoul's autumn has two more colors: wind-swept silver grass and cotton-candy-like pink muhly grass. Short like cherry blossom season, and just as photo-driven — this is autumn's cherry blossom.

The two seasons overlap in early-to-mid October — those two weeks are the peak of Seoul's grass season.

① 5 Spots

1. Haneul Park (하늘공원) — the silver grass sanctuary

- The whole hill inside World Cup Park (월드컵공원) is silver grass. Every mid-October the Seoul Silver Grass Festival (서울억새축제) runs (free, based on past years — check the schedule before you go), with a night opening and lit-up grass during festival week.
- Silver grass + sunset is Seoul's #1 autumn photo combo — the same location as Spot 5 in the sunset guide (#1308), same formula: arrive 45 minutes before golden hour.
- 20+ min walk from World Cup Stadium Station (월드컵경기장역), or the 291 steps, or the Maengkkongi electric car (맹꽁이 전기차, paid).

2. Noeul Park (노을공원·난지 일대) — Haneul Park's quiet neighbor

- The alternative when Haneul Park is packed during festival week. Same Sangam (상암) cluster, so it pairs easily with Haneul Park for a half-day route.

3. Olympic Park Wildflower Hill (올림픽공원 들꽃마루) — the face of pink muhly

- Seoul's best-known pink muhly field. In autumn, pink muhly and yellow cosmos fill the hill (the planting mix can vary year to year — check the park's notice before visiting).
- Walking distance from Mongchontoseong Station (몽촌토성역) and Hanseong Baekje Station (한성백제역). Easy to pair with a Jamsil (잠실) day (Lotte World (롯데월드), Seokchon Lake (석촌호수)).

4. Seoul Forest (서울숲) — the most central and accessible

- A ginkgo path, reeds, and an autumn garden all in one park — flows naturally into a Seongsu (성수) day (#740 Seoul Forest + Seongsu Autumn). More of an "autumn all-rounder" than a grass-only stop.

5. Yangju Nari Park (양주 나리공원) — the day-trip option

- The go-to for a grass day trip near Seoul — a globe amaranth and pink muhly autumn flower festival typically runs late Sept to mid Oct (free, check dates on-site). A same-day trip by subway plus bus.
- Bigger in scale than the in-city spots — worth the trip if photos are the goal.

② Peak-Week Calendar — When to Come

Week	What to See	Recommended Spots
Late Sept	Pink muhly starts coloring	Olympic Park, Yangju
1st–2nd week of Oct	Pink muhly peak + silver grass turning silver (overlap)	Every spot works — the best window
Mid Oct	Silver grass peak, festival week	Haneul Park (night opening)
Late Oct – early Nov	Silver grass's last gold + ginkgo yellow begins	Haneul Park → move on to the ginkgo guide

Pre-Trip Checklist

- [] Check your travel week against the calendar — see which window your dates fall in. If pink muhly is the goal, mid-October onward is too late
- [] Skip or accept the festival-weekend crowds — weekend afternoons during the silver grass festival peak with people. For photos, weekday afternoon + sunset finish (the #1308 formula) is the answer
- [] Work backward from sunset time — Haneul Park's formula is arriving 45 minutes before sunset (October sunset 17:30–18:10). Add 20 more minutes if you're waiting for the Maengkkongi car
- [] Dress for wind — it's windy up on the hill. A light jacket + walking shoes (for the 291 steps)
- [] No drones — most of Seoul's downtown parks are no-fly zones. Bring a selfie stick or mini tripod instead

Verification Notes (Pre-Publish Check)

- Fact anchor: Haneul Park's Seoul Silver Grass Festival running in October, free, with a customary night opening / Olympic Park Wildflower Hill's pink muhly field / Yangju Nari Park's autumn flower festival — all recurring, publicly announced facts for several years running, but this year's exact dates and plantings can vary, so every item carries a "based on past years — check before you go" flag. No specific date is asserted as fixed.
 - Creative boundary: no named businesses (all public parks). Drone restrictions are stated at the level of "mostly no-fly zones, check first."
 - Coverage check: zero prior pieces on the silver grass / pink muhly / grass-season axis (checked against contents.json, 2026-08-20).
